

Printed resources available from Immunodeficiency UK

About immunodeficiency resources	Complications of PID
Primary immunodeficiency – the basics	PIDs and the skin
Primary antibody deficiency	PIDs and cancer
Secondary immunodeficiency	PIDs and allergies
PIDs and infections	PIDs and respiratory disorders
PIDs in adults	PIDs and gastrointestinal disorders
Management after diagnosis	Autoimmunity and inflammation
Genetic aspects of PID	Rheumatological, autoimmune and autoinflammatory crossovers
Classification of PID
Ageing and the immune system
Diagnosis of PIDs
Essentials of PID diagnosis
PIDs, associated conditions and clinical trials
Condition specific information
	MBL deficiency
CVID management	Complement deficiency
XLA	Neutrophil disorders
Hyper IgM syndromes	Transient hypogammaglobulinemia of infancy
Selective IgA deficiency	Wiskott Aldrich Syndrome
IgG subclass deficiency	ALPS
Hyper IgE syndromes	XLP-1
Severe combined immunodeficiency	XIAP
Newborn screening for SCID	HLH
X-SCID – additional information	NEMO deficiency
ADA-SCID – additional information	WHIM
Combined immunodeficiency in children	Ataxia
APDS	Management of primary HLH
Management of congenital athymia
Treatments for immunodeficiency
Antibiotics for treatment of immunodeficiency	Treatments for PID
Plasma derived therapy	Targeted therapies for PID
When to give immunoglobulin therapy	IG replacement therapy – one size doesn't fit all
SCIG infusion – a practical guide	Switching immunoglobulin products
IG guide for adults	IG guide for young people
IG guide for young children	IG therapy information for parents
BMT for immunodeficiency – key questions to ask	Haematopoietic stem cell transplantation
Lifestyle, carer and healthcare resources
Keeping well and healthy when you have an immunodeficiency	Going on holiday
Stay healthy (IPOPI)	Insurance matters
Making the most of appointments	Your employment rights
Life insurance	Taking control of your healthcare
Being a carer	Looking after your lungs
Vaccines and PID	How to work with your GP practice
PID and psychological support	Child to adult care - transition
Guide for schools	Guide for GPs
Guide for gastroenterologists	Guide for internal specialists
Guide for pulmonologists	Guide for hepatologists
PIDs: fertility and pregnancy	